TOTAL POPULATION, INCREASE, AND DISTRIBUTION.

Population of the state.—Montana was organized as a territory in 1864 from a part of Idaho territory, and was admitted to the Union as the forty-first state in November, 1889, with boundaries as at present. The boundaries of the territory from the date of its organization were substantially the same as those of the present state. According to the Fourteenth Census, taken as of January 1, 1920, the population of Montana is 548,889, which represents an increase of 172,836, or 46 per cent, since 1910. During the same period the population of the United States increased by 14.9 per cent. The following summary shows the population of Montana from 1870 to 1920, inclusive, together with the number and per cent of increase for each decade, in comparison with the per cent of increase for the United States as a whole:

Counties.—Montana has 51 counties, of which 23 have been organized from parts of others since 1910. (See Table 1.) Because of the changes in area resulting from the organization of these new counties, it has been necessary, in preparing the maps on page 3, showing rates of increase or decrease in total and rural population, to make numerous combinations of counties, leaving only 16 for which the rates can be presented separately.

Density of population.—The total land area of the state is 146,131 square miles. The average number of inhabitants to the square mile in 1920 is 3.8 (see Table 1), as against 2.6 in 1910 and 1.7 in 1900. (A small portion of Yellowstone National Park, 198 square miles in area, is located in Montana, but the total population of the park has been returned as residing in Wyoming.)

Minor civil divisions.—The political units into which the counties are divided are collectively termed "minor civil divisions." The counties of Montana are made up of 2,078 primary divisions, comprising 1,810 school districts (including 5 for which no population was reported), 164 election precincts, 44 organized townships, and 60 unorganized townships (including 10 for which no population was reported). School districts located in 2 or more counties are designated as "joint school districts." The secondary divisions are 107 in number, comprising 40 cities and 67 towns. Each of 4 cities and 2 towns comprises 2 or more election precincts or parts of 2 or more precincts. In addition to these minor civil divisions, there are within the state 5 Indian reservations, an area of unsurveyed territory (in Carbon County), and an area of unorganized territory (in Park County). The Indian reservations, although independent of the county organizations, have been treated for census purposes as forming parts of the counties in which located. (See Table 2.)

Urban and rural population.—The Census Bureau defines urban population as that residing in cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, and rural population as that residing outside such incorporated places.

The following summary presents, for the last three censuses, figures showing the urban and rural population of the state distributed among places grouped according to specified limits of population. The classification for each census is based upon the population of the various places as shown by the returns of that census. Consequently the territory comprised within any one class of cities or that designated as urban or as rural does not remain fixed, because any given place may, through the growth or the decline of its population, pass from one class to another at successive censuses. The proportion of the population of Montana living in places of 2,500 or more increased from 34.7 per cent in 1900 to 35.5 per cent in 1910, but decreased to 31.3 per cent in 1920.

POPULATION—MONTANA.
